

MAURIL PRIVACY NOTICE

Avis de confidentialité Mauril

1. What Information We Collect and Why

When you use Mauril, we collect your name (you are free to use a pseudonym) and email address, your language level and preference, your browsing history on Mauril, your IP address, your support requests, as well as the model and operating system of your device. Your progress on the platform is associated with your account.

We use this information to enable you to log in to your account, to continue where you left off when you last logged in, and to analyse usage and improve the performance of the Mauril platform.

2. How We Protect Your Personal Information

We have implemented robust physical, administrative, and technical security measures to protect your personal information against unauthorized access, processing, and disclosure, and we regularly review our security procedures to take into account new technologies.

We conduct a rigorous vetting process of all our suppliers, who are required to safeguard your personal information and to comply with all applicable laws.

We remind you that, despite all our efforts, no security measure is infallible or impenetrable.

3. Whom We Share Your Information With

In order to offer you our services, we share your information with a number of service providers who support our operations. For instance, these service providers may provide a platform for user account management, newsletter distribution, or usage analysis software.

4. Online Tracking and Privacy Options

Mauril does not collect your data for advertising or content personalization purposes. Tracking on the platform is conducted for two purposes only:

- Essential Functionalities: Mauril keeps track of your usage so that you can easily resume your activity. Data about your progress is stored in your browser and can be deleted at any time.
- Analytics and Performance Measurement: Performance trackers help us to ensure the proper operation of the platform. For example, these trackers allow us to detect errors and generate statistical reports.

You have the option to disable performance trackers by modifying your browser settings. For more information, please visit the page corresponding to your browser or device:

5. Deleting Your account

A request for account deletion can be submitted through the Mauril platform and will be executed within 30 days. Statistical data on Mauril usage is retained, but it is not associated with specific users.

Personal information of inactive accounts is retained for a period of two years after the last use, allowing you to resume your learning after periods of interruption. After two years, inactive accounts are deleted.

6. Changes to This Privacy Notice

We may update this Privacy Notice from time to time. If we make important changes, we will notify you by email.
